Senate Bill 1076 (Senator Jones)
Budget and Taxation

Ways and Means

Department of Housing and Community Development - Neighborhood and Community Assistance Program - Community Investment Tax Credit

This bill alters the existing Neighborhood and Community Assistance Tax Credit Program by expanding eligibility for the tax credit to include real property contributions and increasing the maximum value of the credit from $125,000 to $250,000.

The bill applies to tax year 2007 and beyond.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: Expanding the eligibility of the credit and increasing the maximum value of the credit would not increase revenue losses beyond that which is provided under current law. No effect on expenditures.

Local Effect: None.

Small Business Effect: Minimal.

Analysis

Current Law: Chapter 636 of 1996 established the Neighborhood and Community Assistance Tax Credit Program. A business can claim tax credits for contributions in excess of $500 to Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) approved projects conducted by nonprofit organizations in a Priority Funding Area. The tax can be claimed against the personal, corporate, public service franchise, and insurance premiums taxes. The amount of the credit is equal to 50% of the contribution, not to exceed $125,000 or the tax liability for that tax year. Any unused amount of credit can be carried forward five tax years. An application for the tax credit must include the name of the approved project to which the business intends to contribute and certification of the value of any nonmonetary contribution. DHCD can approve a maximum of $2 million in contributions in any fiscal year.

State Revenues: Although the bill expands eligibility for the tax credit and increases the maximum value of the credit, State revenues would not be affected. DHCD is authorized under current law to award $1 million in tax credits in each fiscal year, but the bill does not change the aggregate amount of credits that can be awarded. DHCD advises that it typically awards the maximum amount of credits in each fiscal year.
